

CONTINUED SERVICE TO MY COUNTRY ADDED TO SECURING GLOBAL DIPLOMACY

BECOME A FOREIGN SERVICE INFORMATION MANAGEMENT SPECIALIST

Apply your technical expertise to a global public service career with the U.S. Department of State. No matter which position you pursue, you'll have the chance to travel the world and experience different cultures while helping protect U.S. interests abroad.

Information Management Specialists - Support IT systems and information resource management programs worldwide. Apply your leadership and management skills in day to day situations by providing oversight of hands-on tasks, as well as providing technical support to visiting diplomats. Whether serving overseas or in the United States, you'll provide solutions that help optimize our global operations.

Information Management Technical Specialists -Unified Communications or Radio - You will work in the United States or abroad to install, repair and maintain a wide range of digital and voice, or radio equipment.

Join us, and help lead technological advancements that shape the future of U.S. diplomacy.

- Education requirements vary by position - visit careers.state.gov for details.
- Worldwide availability required
- U.S. citizenship required
- Between 21-59 yrs. old to be appointed
- $44,250-$64,983 plus locality pay
- Paid housing and K-12 education for dependent children when serving overseas
- Training and career development
- Federal retirement benefits

U.S. DEPARTMENT OF STATE

★ CAREERS REPRESENTING AMERICA ★

careers.state.gov

Visit careers.state.gov/work/opportunities/vacancy-announcements/ims to learn more and to apply.

U.S. citizenship is required. An equal opportunity employer.